Art Unit: 3736

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Watson et al 5301678. Watson shows an inductive plethysmographic belt that encircles the body with an LC circuit that measures respiratory variations. The examiner notes that the limitation as to the sensor not being attached to the body is an intended use limitation and cannot serve to define over a reference having the same structure. Here, the transducer belt is “adapted” to lie under the patient in the manner recited in that it is capable of doing that..

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2, 4, and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Watson et al in view of Burton et al 6142953. Burton shows an alternate inductive plethysmograph including a coil 26 or 27 wrapped around an elastic member 21/25 or 22/26. Hence, it would have been obvious to modify Watson et al to use the transducer of Burton, as it is merely the substitution of one known equivalent transducer for another. The examiner notes that the pressure acts both perpendicular and parallel to the winding axis of the transducer in Burton et al.

Applicant's arguments filed 1/3/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant has asserted that the sensor of Watson is connected to the patient and hence is not adapted to lie under the patient. The examiner notes that the limitation in question is an intended use limitation and that the structure of Watson is capable of being used in the manner claimed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
